On Meetecho

- Our third virtual meeting
- Our second time using Meetecho

<https://github.com/meetecho/janus-gateway>

- Rehearsal sessions started two weeks before the meeting

What's new?

Implementing your feedback

- Preloaded slides - most requested feature by presenters
 - Used by more than 70% of presenters
- Announcements (requested by chairs, but hardly used)
- Q&A now with video
- Q&A is a built-in feature now
- Changing the room title on the fly
- QoL improvements (emojis, search bar, detachable chat, meeting plan)

Please fill out the feedback survey!

What else is new?

- Testing open hours for participants, Friday before the meeting
 - Used by 60 people
- Virtual Tech Desk
 - Used by ~70 people
- Streamed to YouTube

How did it go?

The Monday blues..

- It took a mere 55 minutes to break the chat functionality
- All it took was a giggle from Jan Žorž

{ message: "<giggle>", at: 1621241766582, sender:
"Jan Žorž" }

- The chat was cleared during lunch
- A bug fix was implemented at the end of the day

The Monday blues.. (continued)

- The housekeeping slide really wanted to stay in the limelight
- AdGuard for Windows
- Unpixelated Gravatar images
- Added error messages

A screenshot of a Zoom meeting interface. The top bar shows various icons for video, chat, and recording. The main content area is divided into two sections. The upper section is titled 'Housekeeping' and contains five items: 'Audio and Video Queue' (with a microphone icon), 'Q&A' (with a question mark icon), 'Participants List' (with a group of people icon), 'Chat' (with a speech bubble icon), and 'Recording' (with a red recording icon). The lower section is a presentation slide titled 'Certificate Issuing – Key Questions and Risks' with a bulleted list under 'CA Availability'. The slide also features a 'SIX' logo in the bottom right corner. The bottom of the Zoom window shows 'audio in: 25 kbps' and a 'recording' indicator.

The rest of the week went smoothly

- No major problems
- Identified a rare bug in the chat panel
- Stress tests and test sessions paid off

Board members are more powerful and they should be held to high standards and no one should be in fear of retribution when dealing with complaints against the board members.

Martina de Mas

yes, I confirm that ;)
